SIR MOSES EZEKIEL TO BE BURIED HERE

Noted Sculptor, Who Designed Confederate Memorial, Will Rest at Arlington.

Within the shadow of the beautiful memorial he designed for the Confederate dead in Arlington Cemetery the body of Sir Moses Ezekiel, sculptor of international fame, who died March 27, 1917, at his home in Rome, Italy, will be interred on Wednesday, March 30, at 2 p. m.

Prominent art critics and authorities on group sculpture from all over the country are expected to attend the services.

Sir Moses was an American, despite his knighthood. Of recent years he lived in Rome, where he could imbibe the atmosphere of classic art.

BORN IN RICHMOND.

He was born in Richmond, Va., October 28, 1844. After serving with a corps of cadets in the Confederate army, he was graduated from the Virginia Military Institute in 1865. He studied anatomy at the Medical College of Virginia. In 1868 he moved to Cincinnati, Ohio. A year later he went to Berlin, where he studied at the Royal Academy of Art under Prof. Albert Wolf.

Sir Moses was admitted into the Society of Artists, Berlin, on the merits of his colossal bust of Washington, and was the first foreigner to win the prize of Rome.

In 1874, the Jewish Order of the Sons of the Covenant commissioned Sir Moses to execute a marble group representing religious liberty for the centennial exhibition in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia. About the same time he executed a monument to Jesse Seligmann for an orphan asylum in New York.

WORK LARGELY IDEAL.

After 1886 the work of Sir Moses became largely ideal. Among his productions are busts of Lieke, Cardinal Hohenlohe, Eve, Homer, David, Judith, Jesus Christ, statues of Mrs. Andrew D. White, Faith, Madonna, Apollo and Mercury, Robert E. Lee, Pan and Amor, the Fountain of Neptune for the city of Nettuno, Italy; bust of Lord Sherbrooke for St. Margaret's Chapel, Westminster, and scores of other busts and reliefs.

Other notable works of Sir Moses are the Jefferson Monument at Lexington, Ky.; Homer Group for the University of Virginia; Virginia Mourning Her Dead, Lexington, Va.,

Baby Carriage Gets Quick Sale

Times Want-ad Brings Veritable Deluge of Glamorous Buyers.

You cannot advertise a baby carriage in the classified columns of The Washington Times more than once, without being over-run with applicants for it. At least that is what the Want Ad Manager has been told.

His latest informant is Mrs. Cleo C. Stears, 1360 Meridian place northwest. She advertised a gray baby carriage for sale in Wednesday's paper and that afternoon and yesterday morning she was besieged by men and women eager to purchase it. Long after she had satisfactorily disposed of it, applicants continued to do likewise. "The results were wonderful," said Mrs. Stears. "I shall always use The Washington Times classified columns in the future and urge my friends to do likewise, when they want quick and satisfactory results."

Napoleon at St. Helena; Jefferson Monument, University of Virginia; a monument to Senator Daniel, at Lynchburg, Va., and the famous Confederate Memorial in Arlington Cemetery.
